CHRISTMAS 2020

WHO SAYS LOLLIPOPS ARE KIDS ONLY?

We started Jolly-Fox with a vision to change the general view of the lollipop by making a delicious sweet treat for adults and break the boundaries for the use of lollipops.

Our lollipops are based on cocktails boiled down to a delicious sugar treat. Eat them as a lollipop or use them as a stirrer in your drink to top up the flavour.

The lollipops are handmade in Copenhagen and we only use natural ingredients, aromas and colours and organic ingredients where possible..

SUSTAINABLE AT HEART

Jolly-Fox strongly aims to be responsible and help to achieve the UN's Sustainable Development Goals. All of our processes are carefully considered with regards to sustainability – both concerning marketing, purchasing, production, ingredients and packaging.

Sustainable production and waste reduction

At Jolly-Fox, all our lollipops are handmade. The only energy used in the production is the gas from the stove. As far as possible, we make-to-order and only have a small stock. We make products focused on reducing waste.

Marketing materials - Nordic Eco-label

We want to help take care of our climate! Therefore, all of our marketing materials are printed at a Nordic Eco-label certified printing company. And our single displays are produced in sustainably recycled and recyclable oak.

Environmentally friendly packaging and sticks

Our lollipop sticks are made of sustainable FSC-certified birch wood and the plastic on our packaging is made of the least polluting and most recyclable plastic-type, PP. The cardboard that our boxes are made of is FSC approved and can be recycled. The same applies to our other mail and packaging materials.

We also recycle suppliers' boxes and packaging material to the greatest extent possible, thereby reducing resource consumption and environmental impact.

CO2 Neutral

We want to be Co2 neutral and Co2 neutralize directly with the supplier wherever we can. We also support Co2 neutralizing projects in the form of tree planting. At the moment, we focus on supporting tree planting in Australia. Further we buy local when possible.

Natural colors and aromas in the lollipops

Jolly-Fox uses only natural ingredients – aromas, colours, spices and herbs for our handmade lollipops. There are no preservatives or other unnecessary additives. For instance, we use turmeric, beetroot and caramel to colour the lollipops. In addition, the lollipops are vegan, lactose-free, gluten-free as well as non-alcoholic.

ABOUT JOLLY-FOX

We started Jolly-Fox with a vision to make a step change for lollipops. We aim to change the general view of the lollipop and break the boundaries for the use of lollipops by turning the lollipop into a delicacy.

Our lollipops are hand cooked in small batches. The colours and flavours are nature's own and we do not use preservatives or other unnecessary additives.

Flavour, texture and appearance are important elements for us and our assortment is in constant development. We experiment with different flavours, herbs and spices to make interesting and tasteful lollipops and we create new limited editions.

Sustainability is very important to us and we focus on sustainability in all our processes.
